

REFLECTION

Design Choices

I chose to stay with the glass morphism as it stayed in consistency with my style that I used throughout the website. It is minimalistic and professional that caters to the personalities of my users who are going to be young adults and college students.

Overall Reflection

This assignment was slightly harder than the others that I did because of the javascript. I had a tough time coming up with the method for interacting with my cart when the user selected it. It was also tough to implement the design of my cart page which I still have to figure out how to do.
